

OVERVIEW

Open for business: list of electrotechnical sector wholesalers

The Electrical Distributors' Association (EDA) has compiled a list of its UK wholesalers and affiliate manufacturers, showing their current business status.

The list – which will be continually updated - uses a simple 'traffic light' system to show which wholesale and other supplier businesses are:

- open for business;
- partially open/operating a reduced service; or
- closed.

The list also has a search function so that ECA Members can go directly to the company they are interested in, to see whether they are open for business.
